Your event organisers

NanoCentral® was set up in July 2006 to be the UK's pivotal gateway for nanomaterials, enabling potential businesses looking to improve existing products and develop new products using nanomaterials to connect with a network of key technology providers. Our aim is simple, we want to accelerate the safe commercial use of nanomaterials through a coordinated and reliable supply chain, so business can maximise profits.

IntertechPira provides events, training, online information and publications across a wide range of topical issues affecting varied industries. Our 100% independent products are provided globally 24/7 and delivered by teams of independent experts at sites in London, UK and Portland, Maine, US across 14 key industry sectors. We specialise in providing expert quality information on: disruptive technologies and their application, research and product development, globalisation and new markets; production methods; regulatory and compliance.

The hugely successful NanoMaterials event organised by the partnership of NanoCentral and IntertechPira is moving to mainland Europe in 2009. NanoMaterials09 will take place at the Maritim Bonn Hotel, Germany, 16-18 June 2009. With more speakers and fresh content, NanoMaterials09 is an evolutionary giant stride, providing you with the knowledge and contacts required to tap into the emerging and profitable markets convergent with nanomaterials.

Remaining loyal to its conceptual origins, NanoMaterials09 will focus on the commercialisation of nanomaterials, rather than technology and theoretical benefits. This is its defining principle and what sets it apart from other events – providing practical solutions for practical challenges.

During the event, delegates can browse the exhibition stands and poster sessions as well as hear from and pose questions to nanotechnology leaders at the conference. Based on the feedback of last year's delegates and in order to allow for the breadth of information, the conference will be structured into 5 parallel sessions:

- Printed Electronics
- Nanocomposites
- Nanobiotech & Consumer Products
- Coatings, Inks & Pigments
- Clean Technology

Alongside these specialised application streams, two morning plenary sessions will address the issues that affect the entire nanomaterials industry, such as commercialisation strategies and indentifying opportunities for convergence.

NanoMaterials09 is THE event to attend for anyone involved in any part of the 'nano' supply chain!
